REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

of Hanover, for the year ending March 10, 1868.

The Superintending School Committee respectfully presents the following report:

DISTRICT No. 1. This school has two departments, and has had three terms in each department. In the department of smaller scholars, for the three terms, 10, 5, and 4 weeks severally the school was under the care and instruction of Miss Emma Fullington. Wages $28.*

The school in the summer term of the other department, 10 weeks, was taught by Miss Lucy Cutter. Wages $32.

In the fall term of 5 weeks it was taught by Miss Clara A. Tinkham. Wages $32.

The winter term of 8 weeks was taught one week by Miss Tinkham, one week by Miss Rix, and six weeks by Mr. William H. Downing. Wages $50. Of this school the Committee of the district say "The young ladies, who attempted successively to teach the winter school, left it from no fault of theirs. Mr. Downing reduced the school to good order, and proved to be an able and competent teacher. Both schools, in the summer and autumn, were well taught and well governed." Whole number of scholars, 133.

DISTRICT No. 2. This school of one term, 12 weeks and 3 scholars, is now in operation. Miss Ardell J. Camp, teacher. Wages, $13.

DISTRICT No. 3. Summer term, 10 weeks. Miss Eliza E. Hoyt, teacher. Wages, $22. Miss Hoyt in this school fully sustained her former good reputation as a teacher and disciplinarian. Progress unusually good.

*Wages per month includes board.

Winter term 9 weeks. Miss Ruth F. Emerson, teacher. Wages, $22. In the examination there was promptness in recitation in the different branches generally. Progress not so great as anticipated. Whole number of scholars, 18. In Algebra, 5; History, 9.

DISTRICT No. 4. Summer term, 8 weeks. Miss Mary A. Ingalls, teacher. Wages, $15. A successful teacher. This school retains its good character for reading.

Winter term, 11 weeks. Miss Abbie C. Cochran, teacher. Wages, $32. Miss Cochran excels both as teacher and disciplinarian. The examination at the close of the term showed thoroughness in the different branches of study, and an unusual amount accomplished. The following, reported by Miss Cochran, is a list of scholars, who had no demerit marks, and who had missed no questions in any one of their recitations during the term, with one exception in the case of one scholar.

Abbie L. Dutton, Lizzie E. Dutton, Lucy E. Dutton, Emma M. Foster, Fannie E. Hall, Lottie A. Hall, Eunice E. Johnson, Ella J. Johnson, Jennie C. Tilton, Sarah A. Mason, Mary E. Mason, Ina L. Wright, Frank W. Davison, J. Henry Foster, Charlie J. Mason, Ransom S. Woodward, Josephus A. Tilton, Eddie H. Wright.

She also reports that the following had no demerit marks during the term: Nellie E. Eaton, Carrie E. Marshall, Charlie H. Wright.

Whole number of scholars, 29. In Book-keeping, 8; Algebra, 5; Natural History, 6; Geometry, 3; the German language, 1.

DISTRICT No. 5. Summer, fall and winter terms of 8, 9, and 9 weeks severally. Miss Emma A. Brigham, teacher. Wages summer and fall, $24; winter $28. Miss Brigham is among our best qualified and efficient teachers. Her school has been marked by quietness, attention to study, and a commendable progress during each term. She says of her scholars: "None of them, I think, are malicious. Of the largest scholars I can speak only in terms of unqualified praise."

Whole number of scholars, 56; in Algebra, 6; Philosophy 2; Book-keeping, 4.

DISTRICT No. 6. Summer term, 10 weeks. Miss Ruth F. Emerson, teacher. Wages, $18. This school in the management, instruction and progress appeared well.

Winter term, 8 weeks. Mr. Albert B. Chandler, teacher. Wages, $20. Mr. Chandler merited the approbation of the committee and the district in his management and instruction of his small school of 4 scholars. Whole number of scholars, 12.

DISTRICT No. 7. Summer term, 10 weeks. Miss Anna Perry, teacher. Wages, $14. This school when examined about two weeks before its close appeared well. The recitations in the multiplication table by the small scholars were remarkably correct.

Winter term, 8 weeks. Wages, 24. Miss Louisa S. Richardson, teacher. Some of the larger scholars made good progress in their studies, and others doubtless might if they had been more attentive to study and less to sport. Whole number of scholars, 27. Higher branches, 15.

DISTRICT No. 8. Summer term, 8 weeks. Miss Emma F. Ross, teacher. Wages, $13. Miss Ross managed and taught her school with much propriety. Winter term, 8 weeks. Miss D. Maria Colcord, teacher. Wages $20. This small school contains some of our best scholars. It was well managed and well taught. Whole number of scholars, 9. In Algebra, 2.

DISTRICT No. 9. Summer term, 11 weeks—winter term, 4 weeks. Miss Ollie T. Hatch, teacher. Wages, $14. Miss Hatch was faithful and attentive to her duties as a teacher, and managed the school in a quiet and pleasant manner. Whole number of scholars, 5.

DISTRICT No. 10. Summer term, a private school taught by Miss. Maggie Whipple. Winter term, 10 weeks. Miss Lucy R. Hurlbutt, teacher. Wages, $20. This school was small when visited at the close. It had evidently been well managed and faithfully taught. Whole number of scholars, 10.

DISTRICT No. 11. Summer term, 8 weeks. Miss Carrie Chesley, teacher. Wages, $16. This school appeared well—its progress commendable. Winter term, 4 weeks. Miss Sarah J. Harris, teacher.

Wages, $20. Miss Harris is an efficient teacher. Whole number of scholars, 11.

DISTRICT No. 12. Summer term, 8 weeks. Winter term, 10 weeks. Miss Ada S. Kinne, teacher. Wages, $18. Miss Kinne is a successful, thorough, and energetic teacher. The order of the school and the progress was very commendable. Most of the scholars committed and recited portions of Scripture as a Monday morning lesson. A good exercise for all our schools. Whole number of scholars, 28.

DISTRICT No. 13. Summer term, 10 weeks. Miss Fanny G. Hurlbutt, teacher. Wages, $16. Her first term. She has made a very good beginning as a teacher. Winter term, 10 weeks. Miss Lucy B. Hurlbutt, teacher. Wages, $26. Miss Hurlbutt is an experienced and faithful teacher. Under her care the school was well managed and made praiseworthy progress. Whole number of scholars, 22. In Philosophy 2; Algebra 4.

DISTRICT No. 14. Summer term, 8 weeks. Miss Emma Shedd, teacher. Wages, $13. Miss Shedd seemed well adapted to her little charge: teaching them many things besides their regular lessons. Winter term, 8 weeks. Miss Mary A. Ingalls, teacher. Wages, $20. Miss Ingalls is well qualified and fully sustains her good reputation as a teacher. In this school is one of our most advanced scholars. Whole number of scholars, 12. In Algebra, 1.

DISTRICT No. 15. Summer term, 10 weeks. Fall term, 11 weeks. Wages, $17. Miss Hattie J. Camp, teacher. This school was composed mostly of scholars who had recently come into the district and whose advantages had been limited. Miss Camp was faithful, and is a successful teacher. She remarks "the progress would have been better had there been a better supply of books, and a more prompt attendance." Whole number of scholars, 21.

DISTRICT No. 16. Summer term 8 weeks. Miss Clara A. Tilton, teacher. Wages, $14. Winter term, 8 weeks. Mrs. Clara A. T. Goss, teacher—wages, $14. In this small school both Miss Tilton and Mrs. Goss evidently aimed to be faithful, discharging her duties in a manner agreeable and pleasant. Whole number of scholars, 8.

DISTRICT No. 17. Summer term, 8 weeks; wages, $18. Fall term, 11 weeks; wages, $20. Miss Louisa S. Richardson, teacher, Miss Richardson has had much experience in teaching, and aims to be faithful. Whole number of scholars, 16.

DISTRICT No. 18. Miss Eliza E. Hoyt, teacher; wages, $20. This school of one term, 8 1-2 weeks, appeared well. Miss Hoyt here fully sustained her former well-earned reputation as a teacher and disciplinarian. Whole number of scholars, 10. In Algebra, 1.

Our schools have the present year been in operation 312 weeks, at an expense of $1926, averaging to each scholar about $4.45, including board given. Whole number of scholars, 433. They have been under the care and instruction of 24 different teachers—two males and 22 females. Number of visits by the Superintending Committee, 68.

With very few exceptions they have been well taught and managed. Still between good teachers there may be a great difference in amount accomplished. In keeping the minds of the pupils awake and pressing them on in their studies, much is depending upon the wakefulness and energy of the teacher. Hence the importance of procuring teachers of the right qualifications; though the wages per month be a few dollars more.

It has been the object of the Superintending Committee for several years past, to promote uniformity of books in the schools, to awaken attention to correct reading and spelling, to press the pupils onward in their studies and to proceed with such thoroughness that much time in reviewing will not be necessary. Hence those more advanced are prepared to take up higher branches of education.

We have now in our schools between 70 and 80 who are attending to such branches as Algebra, Geometry, Natural Philosophy, History, Book-keeping, &c., and we want, therefore, well educated teachers, especially in our winter schools.

It will be seen by this report that in educating our 433 children, it requires no small item of expense from year to year. That the money be judiciously expended, and the highest moral and intellectual improvement of our children and youth be promoted, not only are suitable teachers needful, but, that the Parents, the Prudential Committee and the Superintending Committee co-operate, and take a proper interest in the schools.

New school houses are much needed in districts number 9 and 10, especially in the latter. District number 1 at the commencement of the year adopted the "Somersworth Act." A very commendable interest in their school has been manifest by leading men in that district.

It is hoped that much improvement will be seen there at length—that the section of the town having so large a portion of the school money will be behind no other district in the advancement of its pupils.

The following are the books recommended and now very generally used: Town & Holbrook's Progressive Readers and Speller, Weld & Quackenbos' Grammer; Arithmetics—Adams', and Greenleaf's National; Colburn's and Emerson's Mental;—Quackenbos' History of the United States, (small and large); Geography—Cornell's Series; Algebra—Robinson's Elementary; Book-keeping, Mayhew's; Cutter's Physiology.

BEZALEEL SMITH,
Superintending Committee.
