REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The scholars of this District are divided into two departments, according to age. In each of these there have been three terms of school during the year. The younger scholars have been taught through the year by Mrs. Mary E. Taylor, who has taught the same department for 9 years. This long experience has rendered her admirably skilled in the management and instruction of the quite young.

The Summer term of the other department was in charge of Miss Hannah B. Corey, a lady of high literary accomplishments and experience in teaching.

The Fall term was taught by Miss Addie M. Davis, of whom it is sufficient praise to say, she is thoroughly versed in the studies pursued in common schools, energetic and conscientious in her efforts, and thoroughly alive to the importance of her employment.

The Winter term, under Mr. O. L. Cross, has been very successful, and the school has been in most respects a model one.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

There was no Summer School. A Fall term of eight and a Winter term of six weeks was taught by Miss Susanna Chandler. Miss C. labored diligently, nor were her labors unrewarded. Good progress was made in the various branches pursued.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

The Summer school was taught by Miss Ellen M. Camp, an energetic and successful teacher.

The Win'er term was commenced by Mr. C. C. Daniels, a young man of excellent literary qualifications, but lacking the ability requisite to govern a school. He was discharged after keeping five and one half days. He was succeeded by Mr. Cyrus Camp, who taught nine days. The Committee did not visit the school during this part of the term. The term was finished by Mr. L. C. Hurlbutt, who gave good satisfaction : he had a well managed and profitable school.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

There have been three terms of school in this District. The Summer term was taught by Miss Lucy E. Fellows. The Fall term was taught by Miss Josephine M. Parker. Both these terms were all that could reasonably be expected of schools under the common District system. The schools were well managed and well taught. The Winter term was taught by Mr. D. W. Elliot. Mr. Elliot was an active, enthusiastic teacher and the school made good progress during the term.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

All the scholars of this District were in one school during the Summer term, under the charge and instruction of Miss Addie M. Davis, an experienced and excellent teacher. The Winter school was taught by Mr. B. Frank Wright, and was a good specimen of quiet, order, habits of study, and progress. The younger scholars were well taught by Miss Ellen M. Camp.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

The Summer term was taught by Miss Susannah Chandler and was quietly managed, but lacked animation. Commendable progress was made in most of the studies. The Winter term was taught by Mr. John Hopkins, a teacher every way qualified to keep a good school.— The order in the school was good and the instruction thorough.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

The Summer term was taught by Miss Lydia Alden. The scholars, although governed with too much lenity, made good improvement.

The Fall term, taught by Miss Joanna W. Camp, was conducted in a quiet, orderly manner and with good improvement. The Winter term of ten weeks was taught by Miss L. A. Goodell, a very faithful and efficient teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

The Summer and Winter terms were taught by Miss Joanna Camp. The order and general appearance of the school were good. The Summer term was interrupted by sickness. During the Winter term the classes in Geography and Grammar made decided improvement, while in Arithmetic there appeared to be a lack of thoroughness.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

There have been in this District a Summer, taught by Miss Lizzie J. Garland, and a Fall term taught by Miss Cynthia Pennoek. Both teachers were energetic and faithful. The scholars were quiet and orderly, and made good progress in their studies. Owing to the small number of scholars and the dilapidated condition of the house, no Winter term was held. Several of the older scholars however regularly attended in other Districts.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

The Summer term was taught by Miss Persis P. Morse. The attendance and discipline of the school were excellent, and good progress in study was made. The Winter term was taught Miss Mary C. Rawson. The average attendance of scholars reported was 10. Only 4 were present when the school was visited. Although the number in attendance was small, it was truly a model school.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

The Summer term was taught by Miss Lizzie D. Burleigh, an excellent teacher. The discipline of the school was excellent, and the efforts of Miss B. were indefatigable. The Fall term was taught by Miss E. K. Webster. No visit was made to the school during this term.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

The Summer term was taught by Miss Lorinda C. Withington, an experienced and successful teacher. The school was a pleasant and a profitable one. The Winter term was taught by Mr. M. G. Colby.-- The school appeared well at the commencement, but was not visited at its close. It was, however, highly spoken of.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

The Summer school was taught by Miss Laura A. Camp, an apt, patient and successful teacher. The Winter term was taught by Mr. S. W. Durkee. Energy, activity and a desire to improve, on the part of the scholars, the sympathy and co-operation of parents, made it a pleasant school.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

There was no Summer school. A winter term was taught by Miss L. C. Withington. The number of scholars was 5. The school, although small, was none the less profitable.

DISTRICT NO. 15.

The Summer school was taught by Miss Statira S. Jones. The Winter term was taught by Miss Edna Jones. Both were kind, patient, and diligent teachers and the schools were well taught.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

The Summer school was taught by Mrs. S. B. Clarke. The Winter term was commenced by Mr. Z. A. Leach, but was prematurely closed by sickness among the scholars.

DISTRICT NO. 17.

The Summer term was taught by Miss M. A. Waugh, an energetic and successful teacher. The Winter term was commenced by the same teacher. Not far from the middle of the term Miss Waugh was invited to another sphere of usefulness, and left, much to the regret of the District. Fortunately, Miss A. M. Davis was secured for the balance of the term.

DISTRICT NO. 18.

The Summer term of this school was under the instruction of Miss Elizabeth Smith. The scholars made commendable progress. The Winter term was not visited, and at the time of making this Report no account of the term had been received.

The Committee would congratulate the Town upon the general excellence of the schools. With one or two exceptions, more than an average standard has been attained. While some of the Districts have approached as near to the model school as is possible under the embarrassments of the District system. The fundamental studies have been made prominent objects of attention, and good progress has been made in them. Reading, spelling and writing lie at the bottom of all successful advancement. The first two of these have received appropriate attention. The last, writing, is, in the opinion of your Committee, too much neglected. In some of the Districts not a single scholar in this branch has been found. This cannot be neglected without obvious injury.

It has been a source of gratification to your Committee to find but few fancy studies in the schools. It is their belief that the time of pupilage in our common schools is too short to admit of a great range of study; that the time and labor of both teacher and scholar in the common school should be devoted to laying broad and deep the foundation of a more enlarged education to be acquired in other schools. The studies assigned to the common school are those needed by every one in the ordinary business of life. If these are thoroughly mastered the individual can never be considered as uneducated. Without these, all the proficiency that can be made in other studies can never do away with the impression of an incomplete education.

One of the principal defects of our present system of schools is the constant change of teachers. If by chance a poor teacher has been employed, a change is of course desirable; but if on the other hand a good one has been secured, a great loss is sustained by change. It takes time for a teacher to become acquainted with the various scholars placed under his charge. This knowledge is indispensable to the best results. When this has been once acquired, and the habits of mind, temperaments, dispositions and advancement of the scholars are known to the teacher, much time and labor are saved, and the work of education goes on from term to term with almost none of the drawbacks that attend a change of teacher with every term of school.

Your Committee would, therefore, recommend to the several Districts, a systematic effort to secure a good teacher in the first place, and to retain the same teacher as long as possible. Wherever the arrangement of schools is receiving the most attention, the greater efforts are made to constitute teaching a distinct profession. Inducements are offered to teachers, to make teaching their life-long business and in many cases teachers are settled over schools for a term of years.
